

May 30th, 2025, 9am-5pm UConn Law School, Hartford Reception to follow

9:10a - 10:40a: How can and should insurance influence the law of AI and AI itself?

Ian Ayres (Moderator), Yale Law Catherine M. Sharkey, NYU Law Renee Henson, U. Missouri Law Mark Geistfeld, NYU Law Tom Baker, Penn Law

Kenneth S. Abraham, UVA Law

Current and future insurance coverage 10:50a – 12:20p:

for AI risks

Travis Pantin (Moderator), UConn Law

Anat Lior, Drexel Law

Michael S. Levine, Hunton Andrews Kurth

Justin Sydnor, U. Wisconsin

Laura Foggan, Crowell & Moring LLP

Gabe Weil, Touro Law

12:30p - 1:30p: Lunch: Pro-tips on using AI in legal practice (in-person only; CLE available) Sponsored by the Insurance Law Center at UConn Law School & the University of Minnesota Law School

1:40p - 3:10p: Discrimination, bias, insurance, and AI

Daniel Schwarcz (Moderator), U. Minn. Law

Anya Prince, Iowa Law

Cathy O'Neil, ORCAA Consulting Jason Lapham, Col. Div.. of Ins.

Lauren Cavanaugh, Am. Acad. of Actuaries

3:30p – 5:00p: The use of generative AI in insurance coverage drafting, disclosure & disputes

Rick Swedloff (Moderator), Rutgers Law

Warris Bokhari, Claimable Yonathan Arbel, U. Alabama Law Kyle Logue, U. Michigan Law

Cheri Trites-Versluis, Vault Insurance

Times and panelists are provisional and subject to revision.

Register for free to attend in-person or online: ilc.law.uconn.edu

